Screaming Eagle is a success story almost without equal and is the definitive "cult" classic of Napa. Founded in 1989 by Jean Philips, it "captures the essence of one great Cabernet site in Oakville." Growing mostly Cabernet, Merlot and Cabernet Franc on its little plot of land, Screaming Eagle produces an averages of 500 cases per year. The majority of that is sold only to members on the notoriously difficult to join mailing list.

Harlan Estate, owned by Bill Harlan, is located in the western hills of Oakville. Harlan is known for its commitment to creating a wine that is a California "First Growth.". Their wines are complex, full-bodied and have the ability to age for decades. With an opulent style, rich with dense fruit and elements of black currant, spice, and minerals, Harlan is both graceful and elegant, ranking it among the top tier of California Cabernet producers.

Harlan Estate - started Bond to create single vineyard wines from sources meeting his high growing standards. Winemaker Robert Levy's goal is for each wine to take on the unique expression of its vineyard site and Bill Harlan's ultimate plan is to produce wines from a total of 6 unique vineyards. The wines are known for their lush, deeply concentrated flavors, and their elegance and finesse, which Bill and Robert feel define them as the "Grand Crus" of Napa.

LOKOYA

Lokoya wines are identified with the terroir of Napa's mountain vineyards. Sparse soils, high elevations, good drainage, and the cool climates of the mountains and benches form the backbone for intense Cabernet Sauvignons. Lokoya's goal is to choose sites, lots, and rows of vines that express the terroir and identity of their location through their wines.

Ridge Lytton Springs Zinfandel Blend Dry Creek Valley 2011

Sonoma, USA ~~$425~~ $365/btl

Lytton Springs follows Ridge's traditional 'field blend' approach, whereby the blend is a product of Zinfandel vines having been interspersed with other varieties, in this case around 20% Petite Sirah and 5% Carignan. These components endow the wine with a remarkably firm and age-worthy structure, and a savoury muscularity to complement the backbone of cassis and blueberry fruit. Will reward cellaring of 5-10 years.

RP 89: "The 2011 Proprietary Red Lytton Springs (82% Zinfandel, 16% Petite Sirah and 2% Carignan; 14.4% alcohol) was harvested near the end of September. A juicy, rich effort, it displays abundant notes of raspberry and black cherry fruit, medium body, excellent purity, and good weight as well as richness. The strongest effort of these Zinfandel-based wines, it should drink well for 5-6 years. "
