Haut Brion 2003

The 2003 Haut-Brion is a blend of 58% Merlot, 31% Cabernet Sauvignon and 11% Cabernet Franc that hit 13% natural alcohol, which seemed high at the time, but given more recent vintages is modest. Dark ruby/plum in color, with no amber or orange at the edge, the wine exhibits an abundance of roasted herbs, hot rocks, black currants, plum, and balsamic notes. Quite rich, medium to full-bodied and more complete, with sweeter tannins than La Mission Haut-Brion, this full-bodied Haut-Brion has hit full maturity, where it should stay for at least a decade. Bravo!—RP95

Haut Brion 1995

The 1995 seems to have sweeter tannin and a bit more fat and seamlessness when compared to the more structured and muscular 1996. Certainly 1995 was a vintage that the brilliant administrator Jean Delmas handled flawlessly. The result is a deep ruby/purple-colored wine with a tight but promising nose of burning wood embers intermixed with vanilla, spice box, earth, mineral, sweet cherry, black currant, plum-like fruit, medium to full body, a high level of ripe but sweet tannin, and a finish that goes on for a good 40-45 seconds. This wine is just beginning to emerge from a very closed state where it was unyielding and backward. Anticipated maturity:2006-2035.—RP96

1998 Duclot Bordeaux Assortment Cases (9 Bottles)

Haut Brion/Mouton/Lafite/Margaux/Latour/Cheval
Blanc/Ausone/La Mission Haut Brion/Petrus

1998 is the best vintage for the Merlot-based St Emilion and Pomerol wines since 1990 with its outstanding quality. The Medoc wines were initially underrated, though it is now clear that properties with the finest terroirs have produced some excellent high-quality wines that are now showing tremendous promise.

1998 Bordeaux wine at their best display a lot of elegance, charm, opulence and concentration. They are round, rich and, in the best cases, express a flamboyant, fleshy style, coupled with freshness and character. At 10 years of age, many wines are already beginning to show well.
