MARC COLIN ET FILS

Domaine Marc Colin makes wines of finesse, full-flavored with a fine balanced of oak and fruit. Pierre-Yves Colin took over the winemaking duties from his father Marc, in 1995. He has been updating the winery since 1999, investing in new equipment and improving the vineyard management. Colin uses only the wild yeast from each vineyard and keeps lees stirring.

Marc Colin Et Fils St Aubin 1er Cru En Remilly 2010

- Grape: Chardonnay
- Soil: Clay and limestone soil of hillside
- Aspect: South-west
- Manual harvest
- Aging in oak barrels for 10 months

Burghound 89 points: "A restrained, elegant and airy nose does have a trace of reduction though it is sufficiently in the background as to be almost not worthy of note. Otherwise the aromas are classic En Remilly with plenty of citrus, white flower and stone scents that precede the energetic, detailed and mineral-inflected flavors that possess fine focus on the solidly complex and persistent finish. This is really quite pretty."

PATRICK JAVILLIER

Domaine Patrick Javillier is located in the village of Meursault which, in the heart of Burgundy, is one of the most important viticultural villages of the Côte d'Or. Producing in particular white wines of great renown from the grape variety Chardonnay; wines from the village are classified under the appellations of Burgundy, Meursault and Meursault 1er cru.

Patrick Javillier Corton Grand Cru Corton Charlemagne 2011

Terroir: Our Parcel is in les Pougets, a full South orientation. The cultivation of the vineyard is manual without compacting the soil.

Character: Beginning with the 2000 vintage, the harvests have been relatively early in order to conserve acidity and a certain finesse as well as to balance the richness and the natural volume of Corton-Charlemagne. The wine has a fairly marked golden colour. The nose is intense and marked by hazelnuts, fresh nuts. The power of the aromas is remarkable. On the palate, one finds notes of apple whites and apricots. The wine is mineral, shows lovely acidity and a high natural degree of alcohol that provides for a powerful, concentrated wine with fine persistence.

Burghound 93 points: “A highly complex and very fresh if restrained nose blends notes of Granny Smith apples plus floral and spice influences that are in keeping with the vibrant, refined and admirably pure broad-shouldered flavors that brim with both minerality and dry extract. There is excellent power and plenty of punch to the well-balanced and focused finish and I very much like the sense of presence this displays. Note that patience will be required but that this should amply medium-term cellaring.”

Pierre Yves Colin Morey

Established as one of the young rising stars of Burgundy, Pierre-Yves Colin-Morey in 2005 left his family Domaine, Marc Colin, where he gained a solid reputation for his outstanding white wines. Pierre-Yves took control of a share of the family vineyards (Domaine Marc Colin) from 2006 vintage. His first vintages have been made from vineyards and growers that he works closely with buying the wine as must and aging the wines in barrels which he has supplied. If the resulting wines meet his standards the barrels of wine purchased are then matured in his own cold cellar below his house in Chassagne Montrachet. These wines are produced with natural yeasts, no lees stirring and no filtration that are built to age classically up to 10 years or more.

Pierre Yves Colin Morey Corton Charlemagne Grand Cru 2010

The 2010 vintage is for lovers of real Burgundy

Stephen Tanzer: “Colin believes that his 2010s have similar acidity to the 2008s, which he describes as a bit more exotic, but that the newer set of wines also possess a better natural balance of vivacity and gras.....He did no debourbage and no batonnage, and with the fruit picked with potential alcohol between 12.8% and 13%, no chaptalization was necessary. Colin continues to bring down the percentage of new oak he uses to age his wines.” —International Wine Cellar, Issue 158 Sept/Oct 2011

Burghound 93-95 points: “A green fruit, white flower, apple and wet stone suffused nose is followed by exceptionally rich and overtly muscular big-bodied flavors that possess excellent mid-palate density. There is an impressive abundance of mouth coating extract that also serves to buffer the firm acid spine that shapes and supports the strikingly long finish. This extremely serious effort is clearly built to age for the long-term.”
