Macallan

The Macallan 1985 Private Cask Selection

Bottled in 2004 (Individual Box)

A touch of smoke, cinnamon and ground spices. Dry, medium-full bodied with an intensity of mouth filling, slightly smoky sherry fruits, earth and dried fruit notes. Lovely depth with spicy orange fruit coming through on the finish.

$3,800/btl

The Macallan Rare Cask

The Macallan Makes a Big “No-Age” Statement: “This isn't about the age, it's about what the consumer wants and the skills of the whisky maker”

RARE CASK has been crafted from only handpicked Spanish sherry seasoned oak cask, with exceptionally high proportion of them being first fill. Each cask has been hand selected by The Macallan’s Master Whisky Maker, Bob Dalgarno.

Nose: Opulent, yet soft and slightly meandering, picture an orchestra setting up: quiet vanilla with deep notes, already in tune, raisin bold and booming, though only in spells; chocolate a star performer, but not a standout; a sweet ensemble of apple, lemon and orange, beautifully balanced with a spicy quartet of root ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg and clove. Then oak conducts, mature and elegant, with patience only time delivers.

Palate: The spicy quartet leads, loud and full, unwavering in their performance. Raisin dares to temper – and succeeds!! But oak takes control; timeless, polished, rich and resonating. Vanilla and chocolate complement each other in the background.
